Graphic Design

Constantly encountering and performing different identities, I try, fail, and try again to enact, perform or embody the various lifestyles and identity choices on offer. Seen through my eyes, offeriing a tender but at times disturbing□response to a contemporary sociewty possessed with spectacle and identity performance.

Inspiration

Keyword: Inner child / Tattos / Emotional Memories

I made these two paintings as inspiration for this project. The 75 tattoos on Jonny's body represent his 75 emotional memories, detailing a lifetime of experiences. The grown man grows up and forgets the child that sleeps inside him forever.

This work is an abstraction, a way to allow me to remember that my inner child is always alive even as life goes by. This manga is a way to allow all readers to try to get back in touch with their inner child.

Story

Get Back In Touch with Your Inner Child
——An Eamil from PIX 2024

Humanity has been wiped out by a deadly pandemic created in a laboratory.

Only the male kids and a nameless little girl have survived.
The survivors have no memory of the past, they live in small neighborhood gangs and know only one law: the law of the strongest.

Fighting tournaments are organized everywhere and the common hope is to qualify for the Metaborg.
The winner of the Metaborg will face the little girl, the warrior goddess.

Concept

People and PIX's car are connected to the future through human inner child and emotional memories.

Automated driving space carry the future.

The survivors have no memory of the past.

Automated space

The abstract concept generates emotional expressions, the automated space generates responses.

Get Back In Touch with Your Inner Child.
